NOTE—The above alphabetical list makes reference only to separate maps, and to such land areas as are under separate governmental control—states, colonies, protectorates etc. For all minor areas and political divisions, cities, towns, islands, etc., consult the marginal indexes attached to the maps. The indexes on the margins of the maps of grand divisions or continents may be used to locate larger political divisions, larger islands, and in the case of Africa the tribal sections, native kingdoms, etc. The indexes on the margins of maps of countries and states, give the minor political divisions and the larger cities and towns. To avoid overcrowding and consequent indistinctness some comparatively unimportant places are omitted from the maps; many of these places will be found in the marginal indexes, and their situation on the map may be determined by means of the index reference letters and numbers.

KING JAMES' GRANTS TO THE PLYMOUTH AND LONDON COMPANIES 1606, 1609 and 1620.
The territory between the 38th and 41st parallels was included in both Grants of 1606, with the provision, that neither company could make a settlement within 100 miles of one already established by the other.
By reorganization of the London Company in 1609 (the Virginia Charter of 1609) and of the Plymouth Company in 1620 (as the Plymouth Council for New England) the 40th parallel was established as the dividing line, their possessions to extend from "sea to sea."

THE UNITED STATES 1783 SHOWING THE THIRTEEN ORIGINAL STATES, DURING THE PERIOD OF THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR (1775 to 1783.)
By the Peace of Versailles, 1783, the Mississippi River was named as the western boundary of the United States. The territory north of the Ohio River was claimed by both New York and Virginia. Massachusetts and Connecticut also claimed strips directly west of their territory in virtue of their "sea to sea" charters. These claims were all finally yielded to the United States. Vermont declared its independence from New York in 1777, but was not recognized until 1789; admitted to the Union, 1791.

Note. Whenever the last date on a certain piece of land does not correspond with the date of admission of the state in which it is located, it shews that there was a territorial organization of the same name as the state in the interim.
Missouri became a state with practically its present limits in 1821.
The name Missouri Territory continued to be used for the Northern Section.

INDEX

CITIES AND TOWNS OF THE UNITED STATES

1920 CENSUS

In this compilation the official population figures, as determined by the Fourteenth (1920) Census of the United States, are given for all cities villages and boroughs separately enumerated by the government officials; of the places not separately enumerated by the Census Bureau, and for which there are no government figures obtainable, recent estimates, supplied by local officials and by other reliable authorities, are given. Capitals of states are printed in capital letters, and places having one hundred or more inhabitants are named. The index references enclosed in parentheses, indicate location of city or village on the accompanying maps.

Some comparatively unimportant places have been omitted from the maps to avoid crowding and consequent indistinctness in the engraving; such omitted towns will be found in the list, and their situation on the map, in each case, may readily be determined by means of the index-reference letters and numbers.
